

RE Week Activities Start Today

Religious Emphasis week moves into full swing this Tuesday as the Right Reverend Stephen F. Bayne, Jr., of Olympia, addresses convocation as the RE week keynote speaker. The Bishop of the Diocese of Olympia's Episcopal church will speak on the theme of the annual week of religious activity, "Here I Stand," according to Jean Whisler and Harvey Denton, RE week co-chairmen.

Class periods Wednesday morning will be shortened to allow for a special convocation, the dean's office has announced. The schedule is as follows:

First period 8-8:35
Second period 8:45-9:20
Third period 9:30-10:05
Convocation 10:15-11:05
Fourth period 11:15-11:50

Rev. Bayne will speak at three convocation programs including his Tuesday address. Wednesday the religious leader has as his topic, "Individual or Group." Thursday he will talk on the subject "Humanity is the Unit."

Plan Coffee Hours

Each of Rev. Bayne's convocation appearances will be followed by a coffee hour in the faculty lounge of the Music building to give students and faculty a chance to meet and talk informally with the speaker.

Other activities scheduled during the four-day program include discussion groups meeting throughout the week, an inter-dorm banquet tonight at the SUB, meditations each morning in the Jones hall chapel, and various speakers who will deliver messages to students in their classrooms.

In a statement by co-chairmen Jean Whisler and Harvey Denton, the two RE week directors pointed out the need for a three-fold meaning to the week's activities: to evaluate one's stand on problems pertinent on a personal basis, on a campus basis and on their effect to the world as a whole.

"The events of the week are planned to encourage the students to take greater stands and re-evaluate their positions," they said.

Discussions Slated

Wednesday evening President R. Franklin Thompson will open his home to a group of students to discuss "questions of concern to religion on the American scene."

RE week will conclude Thursday with union services at the Pilgrim Congregational church where, again, Rev. Bayne will be featured as the speaker. He will talk at the 7 p.m. meeting on the "Dignity of Service."

Some 35 students have been named officers and committee chairmen for RE week. Among them are Janet Timmons, secretary; Dave Zaske, finance; Winnie Sandberg, programs; Bruce Berney, meditation cards; Dave Engle, news bulletin.

Other committee heads include Rollin Stierwalt, morning meditations; Ginny Mordhurst and Liz Beckman, retreat; Al Rein-hart, interest finder and continuation; Nina Ellington, faculty relations; Barbara Barton and Judy Dettman, publicity; Marilyn Dow and Rick Rose, church contacts.

Also heading committees are Mary Lee Hamilton and Don Moller, social groups; Naomi Scruton and Elva Straw, discussions; Kathy Kuller and Tom Martin, convocations; Darlene Townsend, inter-dorm banquet; Mary Egbert, leadership banquet; Velma Lienes, Christian Education fellowship luncheon.

Others are Lois Erickson, breakfast; Marilyn Hutchinson and Nancy Eastman, classroom discussions; Jim Elliott, hospitality; Don Cramer and Hal Perry, book display; Willeta Day, coffee hours; Bob Kinch, movie; Sylvia Crowe, art display.

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK Co-chairmen Jean Whisler and Harvey Denton look over plans for the week's activities. Discussion groups, convocations, coffee hours and banquets are among the events scheduled by the committee.

Board Considers Constitution, Chris Miller Memorial Plan

Additional constitutional changes and the announcement of a Chris Miller memorial fund topped Central Board's agenda for the past two weeks. In an attempt to get proposals for constitution change adopted in time for spring elections, the board held a special session Feb. 12 in addition to its two regular Thursday meetings.

The board adopted the remainder of the constitution committee proposals for the reorganization of Central Board and instructed the committee to draft a resolution investing the ASCPS secretary with the duties of publicity director and chairman of hired stenographic help. The resolution would also change the title of the office from secretary to executive secretary.

ASCPS President Juris Macs revealed that a Chris Miller memorial fund is being formed. The student body has its choice of a scholarship fund, a book fund for the library, or a language laboratory which would consist of several booths with tape recorders and pre-recorded tapes for foreign language study.

The board expressed a preference for the laboratory.

The board approved the transfer of $10,000 of ASCPS funds to the college endowment fund for investment. Macs stated the obvious advantage of this move was $250 annual interest the money would earn. By the end of the year it may be possible to invest an additional $10,000, he added.

The board also accepted Ron Usher's motion the Central Board record itself in favor of the college administration's ruling prohibiting smoking except in the prescribed campus areas. Smoking is permitted only in dorms, the SUB, and student lounges; it is forbidden in the Jones hall foyer, in lavatories, and class buildings.

reject to reconstruct . . .

At the risk of sounding like a hell-fire and brimstone revivalist, the Trail wishes to point out one of the opportunities offered by Religious Emphasis Week.

To reject everything he could not prove true was the philosophy of Rene DesCartes. That, in a sense, typifies the experience of many college students as they reject their Sunday school notions of religion.

But rejection is not enough; one must reconstruct a code of ethics, a set of moral standards. Like a car without a driver, a life without a controlling purpose is aimless and erratic. The activities of Religious Emphasis Week offer the opportunity for consultation with trained spiritual leaders and conversation with students who perhaps face the same problems.

Before retiring from the editorial pulpit, the Trail will again echo the invitation of the many students who planned Religious Emphasis Week to take advantage of this opportunity to re-evaluate one's relation to his society, his world, and his Creator.

Intercollegiate Knights Slate Meeting With Eligible Frosh

Intercollegiate Knights will meet with all freshmen men eligible for tapping at 8:30 p.m. this Tuesday in the faculty lounge of the Music building. Any freshman man who has the required 2.25 grade average and did not receive an invitation should contact John Damitio, Intercollegiate Knights duke.

A sophomore service honorary, Knights will tap pages from among the freshman class during the first week in March on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, service and cooperative attitude.

Activities on the IK agenda include helping with the ASCPS general elections and the high school debate tournament in March. Other duties entrusted to the Knights are raising and lowering the flag on Jones hall, providing a tour service for campus visitors, and keeping the college posted on activities by the Log in front of the SUB.

"Service, Sacrifice and Loyalty" is the Knights' motto. In 1946 the CPS chapter affiliated with the national organization, one of the nation's largest campus service groups.

Pre-Law Students

Dr. Hugh Tudor, pre-law advisor, requests all pre-law students to turn in their names, addresses, class standings and phone numbers at the Jones hall switchboard. He needs the information to schedule conferences with the dean of the University of Washington law school.

Dormitory Progress Continues

By DON WHITE

Attempting to disregard the low blows of ol' man winter, workmen persistently forge ahead on the $700,000 pair of dorms going up on CPS's campus, hoping to meet the tentative August 15 completion date.

December found a blanket of snow and plunging temperatures plaguing progress on the dorms; with the February thaw, it's mud and soggy ground that poses the problems.

The dorms, which, according to Bursar Gerard Banks, will house 154 more campus residents, were started early in December shortly after the Board of Trustees executive council awarded the contract to Strom Construction Co. of Tacoma.

"The two new residence halls will be very much like those presently on campus," Banks said, "and the two under construction are nearly identical to each other."

Each of the new buildings will accommodate 77 students. The dorms will have a house mother, but Banks said President R. Franklin Thompson would make the announcement of administration at a later date.

Total cost of construction of the two new buildings is $685,- 756, with the amount split exactly between the boys' and girls' buildings.

Banks said the accommodations for students in the dorms next fall would be much like those of Todd and Anderson. They will have double rooms with furnishings identical to the present halls. Asked if there would be any additional recreational facilities in the new buildings, Banks pointed out the same equipment, such as ping-pong, television, and lounge facilities, which are in the present dorms, would be in the new buildings.

Other construction concerns working on the residence halls are Kaelin Plumbing & Heating Co. and the Ault Electric Co., both of Tacoma.

Students Journey to Olympia; Watch Legislators in Action

An informal meeting with Gov. Albert Rosellini in his office at Olympia highlighted a two-day legislative seminar for four CPS students Feb. 18-19.

The conference, attracting political science students from 11 universities and colleges from throughout the Northwest, was sponsored by the Ford Foundation under the supervision of Dr. Bone of the University of Washington.

Representing CPS were Larry DeLorme, Bob Beale, Don White and Bob Maguinez. Dr. Hugh Tudor of the political science department accompanied the group as advisor.

In addition to being hosted by Washington's new chief executive, seminar delegates toured the capital grounds, met with Land Commissioner Bert Cole, Attorney General John O'Connell, heard luncheon speakers of the House and Senate, and were spoken to by a group of legislative lobbyists who discussed their role in the Olympia scene.

The CPS delegation was allowed to be present at an executive session of the House Highways committee when the decision on the second Lake Washington bridge controversy was rendered.

Dr. Tudor and Roland DeLorme will journey to the University of British Columbia on Thursday to observe a mock parliament sponsored by UBC students. They will be partially reimbursed for the trip by the Falk foundation, which promotes student political activity with a view to interesting students in political careers.

12 Kappa Phi Pledges Will Receive Degree

Kappa Phi's Degree of the Pine will be awarded this evening in the little chapel in Jones hall following the inter-dorm banquet and the movie.

Spring semester Kappa Phi pledges who will receive the degree are Pat Kent, Karen Barclay, Carol Edline, Sherry McIrwin, Elaine Johnson, Carolyn Cox, Katie Howe, Maralee Larson, Kay Wagner, Mary Louise Waterhouse, Joanne Pedersen and Betty Kimmel.

Kappa Phi will sponsor "The Meal in the Upper Room" at 5:15 p. m. next Tuesday at Epworth Church. This meal which represents the "Last Supper," is a continuation of Religious Emphasis week.

Loggers Down Eastern Five To Take Fourth in Conference

Varsity basketball play for the 1956-57 season is over, and Coach John Heinrick's maroon and white-clad hoopsters more than doubled their victories in betterment of last year's record.

The Loggers posted 12 wins as opposed to 11 losses—year's record was five wins and 21 losses — and finished the Evergreen conference campaign solidly entrenched in fourth place.

In the season finale Feb. 16 in Cheney, CPS dumped the Eastern Washington Savages 64-56, but not before the Eastern club put up a valiant but futile effort.

CPS Makes Comeback

For some 13 minutes of the first half it looked as if the Savages were going to romp past the Loggers. Those 13 minutes were the latter part of the first half and saw CPS dropping a 10-5 lead and trailing as much as 21-12. The intermission margin was 32-29 with EWC in the lead.

At the start of the second half, center Ed Bowman hit eight fast points, and Bob Bafus virtually took control of both backboards. The Heinrickmen were never on the short end of the score after they regained the lead.

Each team made 22 field goals, but CPS missed only seven times in 27 attempts from the free-throw line as compared to Eastern's 12 for 21.

Bowman was high point man with 17. Tom Names had 14, Don Moseid 13 and Bafus 11.

Lose to Whitworth

The Feb. 15 contest in Spokane was a different story as the strong Whitworth Pirates downed the Loggers 88-70.

The first half was no indication of the final score, however, as CPS jumped into an early lead and never trailed until 14 minutes had been played in the stanza. Whitworth tied the count at 24-all at that point and the Loggers didn't see the lead again all night.

The Pirates ran the half-time margin to 39-31 with their one-two punch of Marv Adams and Dave Martin getting 22 points between them.

Loggers Cut Lead

In the second half, CPS cut the Spokane collegians' lead to four points on two occasions but could never get any closer.

The Logger cause was also hindered somewhat when starting guard Ron Brown suffered a recurrence of an old ankle injury and sat out most of the contest.

The Whits made 32 baskets in 58 attempts as compared to CPS' 29 for 66. The 62 per cent shooting barrage by the Pirates proved too much for the Loggers.

Moseid scored 22 points while Bafus and Names scored 11 each.

The week-end trip closed the collegiate cage careers of five seniors on the squad. Co-captains Bafus and Bowman along with John Barnett, Brown and Frank Olsen played their last college games.

It is only proper to mention that two other seniors, Erle Tallman and Ken Palmer, also finished their college hoop careers. Tallman was sidelined all season with a knee injury, and Palmer was an assistant coach to Heinrick.

Moseid Tops CPS Scoring

Sharpshooter Don Moseid closed out the CPS cage season still leading the Logger scorers. Moseid ran his total to 340 points in 23 games to win the honor. Seniors Ed Bowman (274) and Bob Bafus (256) and junior Tom Names (251) were the only challengers to the scoring crown.

WAA to Nominate, Elect New Officers

Women's Athletic association will hold a general meeting for nominations and elections of officers February 26, at noon, in the women's gym.

The following have been slated to run for WAA offices: president, Geraldine Frick and Edith Gysin; vice president, Joyce Hermes and Sondra Einfeldt; secretary, Helen Lahti and Beverly Melander; treasurer, Barbara Brown, Ann Deyo and Marilou Waterhouse; program chairman, Carol Weeks and Anita Moore; publicity chairman, Karen Barclay. Further nominations will be taken from the floor at the meeting.

Frankly Speaking

With Ron Frank

"Six more wins. Improvement in the final standings of the Evergreen conference."

These were the two major goals successfully achieved by the 1956-57 edition of the Logger basketball team. Many said they would be lucky to win five games. But the Loggers paid no heed to the self-rated experts and finished fourth in the Evergreen conference and won 12 games against 10 losses against collegiate opposition.

How did the Loggers improve from their 16-7 record of a year ago? It was largely due to the indomitable determination of four seniors and a transfer from Seattle University. Bob Bafus, John Barnett, Ed Bowman, Ron Brown and transfer Don Moseid led the Logger cause throughout the cage season.

Bafus, senior from Endicott, proved superhuman in many ball games by outrebounding larger players from around the Northwest. He led the Loggers game in and game out with his ability to control the boards. One shudders to think what he might have done in his collegiate career if he were blessed with several more inches in height on his burly frame.

John Barnett, despite his bulk, proved to be flawless performer in several encounters with his golden touch working on several occasions to perfection. Ed Bowman, lanky center always hustled and hit a scoring streak in late December when the Loggers looked like they might take a permanent nosedive.

Ron Brown was an outstanding defensive checker and usually put the stopper to an opposing guard. Don Moseid's excellent shooting throughout the season definitely marks him as a serious candidate for all-conference honors.

The other members of the team at least starred in one game during the season and gave the starters competition all along the way. Lack of competition last year was one of the reasons for the dismal season.

This reporter has an idea on why the Loggers, especially the seniors, improved this year. For four years they've been drilled and drilled long hours by a masterful leader. That leader was John Heinrick, the CPS coach, who gets the most out of his players.

Sticklers!

MESSAGE to Botany majors: today's lesson is easy. No spore lore, plant cant or stalk talk. Just the fact that Luckies' fine tobacco is A-1 Puff Stuff! This information won't help you graduate, but it'll cue you to the best smoking you ever had. You see, fine tobacco means better taste. A Lucky is all fine tobacco... nothing but mild, good-tasting tobacco that's TOASTED to taste even better. Why settle for less? You'll say a Lucky is the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!

STUDENTS! MAKE $25

Do you like to shirk work? Here's some easy money —start Stickling! We'll pay $25 for every Stickler we print—and for hundreds more that never get used. Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (Don't do drawings.) Send your Sticklers with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, N. Y.
